

Eagle Point Library
Thursday, March 15
4:00 p.m.

Susan B. Anthony (1820-1906) recalls her life as an earnest, and for a time, a frivolous, young woman and the events that brought her in 1851 to meet Elizabeth Cady Stanton and to become a full-time worker for woman's rights:

- her right to the control of her own person
- her right to ownership of her wages
- her right to guardianship of her children
- her right to the VOTE.

The Women of this nation must be awakened to a sense of their degradation.

—Susan B. Anthony

SUSAN B. ANTHONY SAYS A WORD

Written & Performed by MIRIAM REED

A 45-minute Solo Play
&
A Question Session

Saturday
17 March
1:00 PM

Jacksonville Library
340 West "C" Street
Jacksonville, Oregon

MIRIAM REED
One-Woman
POWERFUL Women
PRODUCTIONS